

INDOOR TRACK & FIELD

- Binghamton's Rory Quiller became the second National Champion in America East history when he won the pole vault at the NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships in Fayetteville, Ark. Quiller won the event with a height of 18-0 1/2 (5.50 meters). It marked the third time in his career that he had received All-American accolades. Quiller posted a career best 18-6 1/2 at the IC4A Championships in March.
- Boston University's Marisa Ryan and Tahari James both set school records and earned All-American honors at the NCAA Championships. Ryan finished fifth in the 3,000 meters in 9:12.83 while James was sixth in the triple jump with a leap of 44-0 1/2 (13.42 meters).
- Ryan and Quiller were cited by the USTFCCCA for regional excellence. Ryan was named the Northeast Region's Most Outstanding Women's Track Athlete while Quiller was selected the Northeast Region's Most Outstanding Men's Field Athlete.
- David Parker, who set a new conference record in the heptathlon and was named Men's Most Outstanding Field Performer, helped lead Albany to its third-straight America East Men's Indoor Track and Field Championship.
- Ryan, who won both the mile and the 3,000 meters and was named Women's Most Outstanding Track Performer, helped lead Boston University to its third-straight America East Women's Indoor Track and Field Championship. It was the Terriers' 10th title overall.
